

ANALYTICAL AND EXPERIMENTAL PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY FACULTY POSITIONS

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY

The Department of Chemistry at Wayne State University seeks applications for tenure-track or tenured faculty in analytical chemistry and in experimental physical chemistry with appointments beginning in August, 2017. The search is open to all areas of analytical and experimental physical chemistry, broadly defined. The positions will be supported by generous start-up packages and recently renovated laboratory space. A Ph.D. in chemistry or a related field and postdoctoral experience are required. Please email the application materials to Professor Charles H. Winter at chw@chem.wayne.edu. Additionally, you will be prompted to apply online using a link sent by Professor Winter. Junior candidates are expected to develop a nationally recognized, externally funded research program and should submit an application letter, curriculum vitae, a description of future research plans and broader impacts thereof, statements of teaching philosophy and diversity, and three letters of recommendation. The letters of recommendation should be sent by email to the Head of the Search Committee, Professor Charles H. Winter (chw@chem.wayne.edu). Mid-career and senior candidates should have an established record of excellence in teaching and research and should submit an application letter, diversity statement, and curriculum vitae.

The Department is home to the fully equipped and staffed Lumigen Instrument Center with state-of-the-art instrumentation in NMR spectroscopy, mass spectrometry, X-ray diffraction, and electron microscopy. Additional information about the Department, the newly renovated Chemistry building, and the Lumigen Instrument Center can be found online at www.chem.wayne.edu and <http://www.chem.wayne.edu/lumigen/mission.html>.

Review of applications will begin in October, 2016, and will continue until the positions are filled.
